

Business Intelligence and SQL Server

Clarity about your data... clarity for your decisions.

Overview

Companies have more data available to them than ever before. Concurrency helps harness that data to bring competitive advantages as business leaders identify inefficiencies and trends of all kinds. Our database, reporting, systems integration & optimization, and other solutions add value because we focus on business outcomes. We also emphasize knowledge transfer so clients can maintain and manage deployed solutions after our engagement is complete.

Project goals often include the ability to quickly and easily surface data from multiple business applications in order to make informed decisions—without executives needing to request assistance from IT to get the answers they need. Tools may include automated monitoring, scorecards, ad hoc queries, reporting on key performance indicators (KPIs) and more.
